There is an excellent internship opportunity with the Utah State Legislature that is available to students in any major. Students who have completed this internship typically say that it was one of their best experiences at BYU. This excellent program is open to any qualifying student who has an interest in learning more about the legislative and policy making process. Every participating student receives a $2,775 stipend for their work during the 45 day session.

To be considered, students need to have a minimum 2.7 GPA and be juniors or seniors in good Honor Code and academic standing. In exceptional cases sophomores with previous military, mission or relevant employment experience may also apply. Legislature interns must be available to work full-time (Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.) and some evenings from January 4 through March 5, 2021. All students receive from five to 14 political science credits. Up to three internship credits from other disciplines can be included in the total with the permission of that department. For additional information about the program see the web site at https://uslinternship.byu.edu/.

The application deadline for students to apply for the internship has been extended. Attached is a slide you can share, if you would like. Please have any interested students contact me at scott.dunaway@byu.edu.
